Example of nominee

Troop leader has been a consistent mentor to 12 girls for the last 4 years. Through bi-weekly meetings, the girls have earned badges focusing on the environment, financial literacy, outdoor skills, and helped them develop skills in cooking, STEM and camping. Over the last two years the girls are taking on more responsibilities in the troop, choosing activities and events. This year each girl is leading a badge of their choice. The troop leader has helped the girls plan camping trips and they are currently planning a trip to Savannah. This planning has helped girls develop budgeting skills. Leader has helped girls not only set goals but modeled how to break these goals into action steps to help them reach their goal. While the girls are not best friends outside of the troop, they see each other as Girl Scout sisters and hold each other accountable.
